THE MARCH 2007 MEETING AGENDA

The Southwest Group will conduct this meeting. Christopher Schwarz is the editor of both Popular Woodworking and THE FINE TOOL JOURNAL magazines and is a long-time furniture maker and hand tool enthusiast. Chris writes about hand tools and uses them every day in his own work. He has made two DVDs on traditional tools that were produced in conjunction with Lie-Nielsen Toolworks. They are: FORGOTTEN HAND TOOLS and COARSE, MEDIUM AND FINE. He is currently at work on two new DVDs about Scrapers and Traditional Cabinetry. Chris is also writing a book on building and using workbenches. Chris is a returning guest to our club. During the first half of our meeting he will be discussing the uses and care of Shoulder Planes. Our second presenter will be, DOUG HALEY (www.haleydaniels.com). Doug comes to us from

Berea, Kentucky. He along with his brother Wally have over 40 years combined experience as makers of fine furniture. In 1977, both Doug and Wally acquired B.S. Degrees in Vocational Industrial Education and Technology from Eastern Kentucky University. Doug owned and operated a sawmill operation for three years before taking a job as a master craftsman for a custom furniture shop. After six years there he took a job managing an architectural millwork operation. Then In 1986 he started his own furniture making business in Berea Kentucky. Doug has won numerous awards in design and craftsmanship nationally, and awards at some of the 63 juried craft fairs he has attended. Doug is known for his craftsmanship and an eye for design, he has developed a following of many repeat customers. Doug's expertise lies in the area of design and craftsmanship, while Wally's lies in the area of craftsmanship and finishing. Doug will be discussing one of his new ventures. For the first time in Doug's 26 years as a furniture maker, he will be offering a comprehensive workshop. He will be sharing information about his upcoming workshops. He will also be bringing some of the woodworking pieces on display in his Berea gallery.

TOYS FOR CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

CWC has been spearheading a special toy project for Cincinnati's Children's Hospital. By crafting and donating toys, puzzles and memory boxes we hope to help make life a little brighter for the children undergoing treatment there. CWC members and non-members alike are encouraged to help. Basil Maddox is the new Coordinator for this project. Basil is arranging a meeting with the Children's Hospital liaison. We will soon have more information on what the hospital would like us to do for these children in the future. On behalf of the club we want to thank Jerry Jones for the time that he has served as coordinator.

If you have anything made for this project, please bring it to the March meeting.

THE APPALACHIAN TOY PROJECT TOOL AUCTION = MORE WHEELS FOR CAP TOYS

Terry Elfers and John Leonardi were pleasantly surprised at the response to the tool auction, both from the donors' side and the buyers' side. We had no idea we would collect $480.00 in donations and tool sales. Thanks to all who participated!

This is what we have done with the money. Gladys Riehle found a good source of wheels and we have ordered 2200 1 1/2 inch wheels, 1000 2 inch wheels, 3500 1 inch wheels and 5000 axel pins. Anyone planning to make toys that use these size wheels, send John Leonardi an e-mail at giova1@aol.com to request the number needed. You can either pick them up at John's house or he will bring them to you at the March meeting.

It's never to early to start making those toys.

Everyone had a good time at the auction and requested we do it again. So, we will try to make this an annual event at the January meetings. So, when you are going through your shop, put aside those tools you wish to donate to next year's auction. For all the Toy Makers, if you can think of any parts or other size wheels we can buy with future monies, please let John or Terry Elfers know. Terry's e-mail is telfers@cinci.rr.com.

APRIL SEMINAR

Our Vice President, Bruce Mosher, reports more than twenty people have offered their services presenting topics from hand cutting of dovetails, to blacksmithing for woodworkers, to sharpening, an on and on. The seminars will be less than 4 hours each, some will be presented two or three times, and they are being scheduled from Thursday April 19th to Sunday April 22nd. The seminars are for members, by members, and they are without charge. Several members have raised their hands to be helpers in making this event happen. Please thank all of these people! Stay tuned to your email for further developments. A complete list of topics and times will be broadcast as soon as it's formalized, and registration will be via email. After the schedule is set, sign-ups will occur in rounds, with everyone getting a turn to register before anyone gets two turns. ATTENTION - those that do not have email (and ONLY those without email please), call Bruce Mosher the evening of March 15th to discuss signing up at 513 237-3325.
