Earl North and the Northeast Group are hosting this meeting. Bruce Shea of Franklin Ohio will demonstrate how to make wooden bowls on a scroll saw. This will be a live demo featuring a layered bowl. He will also show other uses for the scroll saw as time permits. Ron Frame has seen this demo and recommended it for our club.

The November meeting is toy time. Earl North will give a presentation on making boxes and toys. He made this presentation to the men's group at the Otterbein Retirement Center this summer. They were so impressed with the community service work we do that they made a donation to our toy fund. This is just a reminder that we have two months before our November meeting to make toys and boxes.

Manual Canales, the club librarian, will make a short presentation on how to use the video & book library and answer any questions (see additional info below).

Video & Book Library

The CWC maintains a library of woodworking videos and books for use by members for a nominal fee of $1 to help defray cost of replacing DVDs and VHS tapes. A complete listing of the items available in the library is listed in the Members Area on our website. We hope you will take advantage of this unbeatable resource.

A $10 refundable deposit is requested. Manuel Canales is our Club librarian. The mobile library is available at each club meeting. Videos may be checked out or returned during breaks, before and after meeting. Members are requested to return videos promptly so everyone has a timely opportunity to use them as resources.
