A Reminder

This is our Annual Picnic Meeting.

THE May 10, 2008 MEETING AGENDA

The Southeast Group has the lead for this meeting. This is our annual Picnic meeting. The Picnic will begin after the meeting. Bring your appetites.

Keith Neer will discuss the five "have to have" adhesives necessary in the wood shop. In addition, Keith will discuss the advantages and disadvantages of each while doing a practical demonstration on each.

Keith will also explain how several of these adhesives can be used to repair flaws in the wood or mistakes in a project.

There will then be a Question and Answer session to discuss any woodworking issues with glues and clamping.

As you know there is a Build a Small Table Contest

The voting for a winner will take place at this meeting.

The members will vote for the top three tables in the General Population and the top three table in the past winners group.

This contest was formulated to include the majority of the club members in a woodworking project that would foster the sharing of ideas and allow the members to spotlight their woodworking skills.

Members could build any type of table as long as the surface area of the table top didn't go over 576 square inches. You will vote on the following five criteria.

Originality of Design, Functionality of Design, Artistic Design, Finish and Technical Expertise.

The Winners will each receive a ribbon along with the Honorable Mention winners. Their projects will also be featured in the Newsletter and posted on our Web Site.

Woodworking 101

The Central Group and the Southwest Group are doing what a lot of people have talked about for years. Woodworking 101. The concept is that members from the individual groups get together between the normally scheduled Club meeting to share their woodworking knowledge and practical skills. They have the meetings at one of the members workshop's to gain practical experience working hands on with a predetermined tool or skill. The benefit of this sharing of knowledge is many fold. It builds fellowship, forms a new understanding of woodworking and encourages the attendees to further develop there abilities in woodworking. The first Central Group meeting was dedicated to the scraper and was attended by many of that group's members. The second was a workshop on sharpening. The Southwest Group has had a workshop on hand cut dovetails. Naturally the number of attendees is limited by the size of the various shops and the number of tools available but the benefits to the members who can attend these workshops is priceless. We would like to see more workshops like these.

THE JIM SCHAEFER TOY PROJECT

DOWELS

Cincinnati Dowel Company has given us a large supply of dowel cutoffs measuring up to 12 inches long. Terry Elfers and John Leonardi recently picked them up in Mt Orab. We have ¼ to one inch birch, poplar, pine, maple, walnut, cherry, and mahogany dowels. Terry and John will make these available to our toy makers free of charge. If you would like to purchase these dowels for other projects, they will be available for a nominal price. All proceeds will go to purchase more toy supplies.

TOY LIBRARY

If you would like to make toys but are not sure of what to make, we are about to make it easier. At our next meeting we will have toys that you can borrow to use as models. You can sign them up until the next meeting. In addition we will have copies of toy plans that you can use. Of course you can still go to our website to get ideas from previous year toy photographs.

Fall Clinic 2008

Keith Neer has again volunteered his woodworking shop for the clinic. We even have a date and a new time. One of the comments we heard last year from a several people was to think about changing the time to an earlier slot, which would free up the evening hours for other things. So here it is, enter it in your planner or where ever you put special dates. October 4th from 9:00 am until 2:00 pm. So you have no excuse to miss this one. Like last year we will need volunteers, especially demo presenters. We already have four club members who have already volunteered to do demos, however, we will need more. So you have all summer to think about where you want to volunteer. I will announce this again at the May meeting and let you know more about the clinic in September. So, we are getting a little jump on things this year so, again mark the date and plan on attending. It's a good time and the food is great. Terry Hale
