Methods of Work

Jim Schaefer Toy Drive Collection

The CWC Central Group has planned the following program for the November 8th meeting.

Methods of Work --Jim Baldock, Dusty Eling and the Central Group will have a “Methods of Work” presentation, a series of handy shop tips covering many of the following topics

- Safety
- General shop tips
- Jigs and fixtures
- New equipment and material on the market
- Sharpening
- Finishing

Jim Schaefer Toy Drive Collection—The November meeting is the collection meeting for the Jim Schaefer Toy Drive. We collect toys for Christian Appalachian Project (CAP) in central Kentucky. George Murphy is coordinating the project. If you have items to donate, please follow these instructions.

- Prior to arriving, complete the tracking form (found later in the newsletter). Include your name(s), address, descriptions of your donations by type, and how many items you are donating
- Put all the items except one example of each type, in a sealed box and bring it to the collection area in the upstairs hallway of the church. Come in the door to the left of the steps to the basement. Please drop off your items between 8 and 9 am. Someone will load your box/boxes into the van for delivery to CAP. Contact George in advance if you need boxes.

Mark Costello, from the UC Wood Technology Program, presented at the September club meeting.

- We will take the example items down to the meeting area for photographing and show-and-tell. You can talk about your items if you wish.
- George's crew will pack the show-and-tell items after the meeting. He and Ray Ladouceur will make the trip down to CAP to deliver the toys and other items in time for Christmas.

There's still time to raid your shorts and narrows bin and spend a weekend or afternoon or two making a few toys for this project. If you need ideas, the web site has a number of plans and George Murphy has components (see Sept. newsletter) and plans for a number of items.

Spring Seminar

Mark your calendars! The spring seminar will be on April 11, 2015. The topic will be Blending Hand Tools into Your Modern Workshop. Ron Herman, from Columbus, OH, will be the instructor. He runs a restoration and sharpening business in addition to teaching classes. You may have seen him at some of the woodworking shows.

Instructor Information

Ron Herman, Master Housewright

Ron has been working with antique and vintage tools almost all of his life - some of those tools weren't vintage, back then! From his start with and now ownership of his more than 100-year-old family contracting company, Antiquity Builders, Ron has been sharpening, fettling, using and restoring these tools since he was ten years old. Now a master housewright, toolwright and carpenter who gained his skills through the traditional apprentice program and his own voracious thirst for knowledge, Ron uses these skills and that knowledge to teach others.

Seminar description

Blending Hand Tools into Your Modern Workshop

You might know Ron as a historical hand-tool master. But did you know he also knows power tools? Most people think these worlds collide, but in reality, blended shops have been around for 150 years. Ron demonstrates how different tools are good for different jobs and how hand and power tools can complement each other in a modern shop. Have you ever been faced with running a bead down the middle of a 12" board? A molding plane can knock that task out in just a few minutes, where it might be difficult for a

Paul Sanow with his tall clock bonnet, design drawings, and materials used to build his tall clock. Paul shared the construction methods of his clock at the September meeting. Paul's tall clock was the 2014 winner of the Fred Weissborn Craftsmanship Award

During the meeting's show and tell, Tom Cook shares the chair he designed and built.

Keith Mealy's knock down patio chair and stool. Keith uses these in his camper.

power tool. Conversely, a power router can do great production molding, where it would wear you out and take forever with a hand plane. Ron will give you useful information about most common shop tools and some less common ones, and how to set up and use those tools properly-as production has come forward, these tools still complement each other and each have a valid place in the shop.

Tuition will be $30 and registration will begin at the January meeting. Keith Neer again has graciously agreed to host the seminar at his shop.

Weekend Workshops

Larry Saupe has volunteered to do a weekend session on Hand Plane Fettling (tuning and sharpening). Bring your hand plane and Larry will work through the steps to get it swishing off fine curls. There are two identical sessions scheduled. One is on November 1 and the other is on November 15. Call Larry to register for a session. The workshop limit is six. More workshops will be scheduled as needed.

Larry will cover these topics:

- History of the plane
- Plane anatomy
- How to purchase a used plane
- Tuning
 - Cleaning
 - Truing frog, body and blade mating areas
 - Flattening the sole
- Chip breaker and blade sharpening
- Set Up
 - Adjusting the clearance of the plane blade in the throat
 - Adjusting the lateral adjustment
 - Adjusting the blade cutting depth
- Make the plane sing producing paper thin chips.

The workshops will be held at

Larry Saupe's Shop

Time: 9:30 AM till Noon

Paxton Lumber

Paxton Lumber in Madeira has been a longtime supporter of the club. In recent years, though, they've downplayed their retail operations. New store managers, Andy Deimling and Greg Day, are working to re-vitalize the store and warehouse and get back into the retail market. They are now stocking more plywood, such as quarter sawn Red and White Oak on MDF and Wenge (exotic) on particle board. They also stock 2x4 (quarter) and 4x4 (half) sheets of plywood. They are carrying both domestic and exotic species of lumber in various thicknesses and veneers. There is a huge selection in the clearance corner as well.

Rockler Woodworking

When you shop at Rockler, be sure to tell them you're a member of the Cincinnati Woodworking Club. For every 20 purchases of $25 or more the club members make, they send us a $20 gift certificate that we use for door prizes.

Artistry in Wood

The annual Artistry in Wood show is November 8th (10-6) and 9th (10-5) at the Dayton Expo Center. The Dayton Carver's Club and Western Ohio Woodworkers sponsor this event and profits go to United Rehabilitation Services of Dayton. Be prepared to be awed by carvings, turnings, scroll work and furniture at this show.

360 Woodworking

Our friends at Popular Woodworking, Glen Huey, Bob Lang, and Chuck Bender, recently left F+W Publishing and are starting their own multi-media company, 360 Woodworking. There will be weekly articles and major projects about every 8 weeks. For the remainder of 2014, the subscription is free. You can review the video of more about the program and register for updates once it's up and running at <http://www.360woodworking.com>

Guests

Guests and prospective members are always welcome at CWC meetings. If you know someone who is a woodworker or wants to learn, please invite them to join us.

Volunteer Opportunities

Please step up and help your club!!

Jay Ratcliff would like to step down from the Audio-Visual coordinator position. He's willing to stay on through this year and train his replacement on how to run the control panel that works the projector and sound system. This also includes getting the equipment out from the closet and putting it away before and after the meetings. If you are interested in helping out, please contact Jay at the meeting.

The club is also looking for a new back-up photographer to help Ray Jang. All you need is a digital camera and a willingness to take pictures at the meeting and other events.

Auction

We will again have an auction of tools and supplies at our January meeting. All proceeds go to fund our charitable projects. If you have some duplicate or upgraded tools, or just things sitting in the corner that you don't use,

Tool Liquidations

If you know someone who wants to liquidate a shop's tools here are some options:

- E. B. Mueller will buy or consign goods. Contact Hank Lynch hanklynch@muellerco.com or 513-761-6777 x 312
- Kannady & Moore Auctioneers at 859-991-8494
