Elevating Your Woodworking to New Heights – Ken Neaman will lead this presentation. Many are aware of the fine work he does and his earlier presentation on “Personalizing Your Pieces”. He will instruct us this time in the art of making a variety of legs and feet that are important elements of fine woodworking. These feature the making of sculpted legs, including Cabriole. He has tips on tapering. Varieties of feet including bracket and ogee bracket will be discussed. Pictures will be shown and hands-on mockups and samples displayed.

The Woodwright’s School – Ray Jang recently attended this Roy Underhill school in Pittsboro, NC. Under instruction by Mary May, professional carver, he learned about carving a Concave Newport Shell. He will give a brief overview of the experience.

Robin Renner is our guest speaker from the Mt. Vernon, Kentucky Christian Appalachian Project.

This is the recipient organization for our Jim Schaefer Toy Program. Robin is the Manager of Family Advocacy as well as the Housing Programs and oversees five counties. We hope you will find this talk inspirational and helpful as we look forward to another year of toy making.

Shop Talk - We are adding secondary topics to our March 12th meeting under the new general heading "Shop Talk". These are topics offered by meeting leaders or requested by members in advance of meetings. Shop Talk is intended to be a rapid-fire means of tapping into the general woodworking wisdom that exists among our members. By listing the topics in the newsletter and making photos available for projection on screen during the meeting, we hope to create a synergistic exchange of information. The meeting leader will solicit responses from members and manage the breadth and depth of discussion. Here are the offered and requested subjects for this meeting:

- How to access and use the CWC website Forums?

- Workbenches – What are the important features and what makes yours unique?

- Remove the bow – After turning and raising the edge of a piecrust table-top, it warped. How to fix?

- How to improve a proposed concept dust collector at the front of a table-saw?

- If you have photos that would help to communicate your ideas on these subjects, email them to murphyhg@fuse.net and we'll make them available for projection during the discussion.

Photos of past projects were passed around along with several 'What the HECK is It'. Glasses were raised to 'Woodworkers Past' and new friends were made – IT WAS A GREAT AFTERNOON!! 2010-2011 Woodworking Contest

Build anything that is primarily made of wood and completed between September 2010 and May 2011.

It will be judged by the same criteria used in our past contests. Originality of design (how unique is it?), Functionality of design (how well does it work?), Artistic design (is it attractive?), Finish (sanding, stain, top coat) and Expertise required to complete (complex angles, joinery, inlay etc.). Photos may be used to enter projects in cases where it is not practical to transport and display. A PowerPoint presentation will be used to display entry photos again this year when the contest is judged at the May 2011 meeting.

As part of the Woodworking Contest, we will present our 2nd annual Fred Weissborn Memorial Quality Award.

It will go to the woodworker whose Contest entry is voted by members to best reflect the craftsmanship demonstrated by Fred during his long tenure as a member. The selection criteria will follow the principle that “craftsmanship” is in the eye of the beholder. Each voting member will determine the superior craftsmanship as he or she sees it and pick the best entry. This award is a traveling trophy with the winner’s name and project inscribed on it.

We congratulate Keith Neer as the first winner of this prestigious award in May 2010. At Keith’s suggestion, the Steering Team has decided that a member may only win this award one time. A winner is ineligible to compete for this award in a future contest. However, a winner remains eligible to compete for any other contest awards.

CINCINNATI WOODWORKING CLUB
ANNUAL SEMINAR 2011

◆ "How to Get the Most out of Your Power Tools with Jigs, Fixtures, and Proper Setup" ◆

DATE: April 2, 2011

TIME: 9:00 AM – 4:00 PM

LOCATION: Keith Neer's Shop – Williamsburg, Ohio

ADMISSION: $20 FOR MEMBERS - $35 FOR NON-MEMBERS

The emphasis of this year's seminar is on using Jigs, Fixtures and Common Sense Approaches in the shop to get the most out of your power tools. Doug Dale and Zane Powell will team up to demonstrate a variety of jigs, fixtures and techniques to help you achieve satisfying results for your projects. The table saw, band saw, planer, jointer and router will be featured. Other tools and techniques may be used in some of the demonstrations.

This seminar goes beyond a presenter standing behind a table holding up an object and explaining its use. These demonstrations will be on actual equipment.

Biographies:

Doug Dale has worked at Marc Adams School of Woodworking (MASW) for 10 years and is in charge of student affairs and all the in-house maintenance. At one time, he held the record for the most classes attended in one summer--17. He obviously has completed his Masters, and in 2005 taught his first class at MASW along with Zane Powell on Machine Maintenance, Jigs, and Fixtures. When Doug is not working at the school (or driving to and from the school--he lives in Ohio and drives more than 100 miles one way each day), he is working in his shop making furniture and cabinets and dabbling in restoration. He is a dedicated employee who has motivated and inspired everyone through his wit and enthusiasm. Doug has lectured nationally for the Consumer Woodworking Expo.

Zane Powell has been a professional woodworker for more than 30 years. In 1987 he supervised the residential cabinetry division at Classic Woodworking, specializing in design and building complicated casework. In 1992 he started his own company that specializes in fine furniture. He has been the lead assistant at MASW since it started in 1992. His work has been featured on the front cover of Builder Architect magazine and in Indianapolis Monthly and Better Homes and Gardens' Wood magazines. Zane is one of the reasons our school is what it is today.

Doug and Zane are noted for providing entertaining and informative classes. Get ready for a fun day of learning.
