Library Reminder

For those members who checked out video tapes last meeting, don't forget to return them this meeting so others can check them out. Those of you who haven't taken advantage of the video tapes available, please look them over at the meeting. There are video tapes available on almost every phase of woodworking. Thanks!

CWC User Group

Did you know the CWC has a user group on the web where you can ask questions, answer questions or just "lurk" in the background and learn from the experiences of others? To join go to Yahoogroups.com and sign up for an ID. The next step is to join Cincinnati Woodworking. There are about 70 members already. Join Us.

January Meeting Agenda:

Eric Scarpa and the Southeast Group have an excellent meeting planned. We will have two guest speakers at the January meeting.

Jim Stack of F&W Publications (Popular Woodworking Magazine, among others.) Mr. Stack, the author of "The Biscuit Joiner Project Book" and "Northwood's Furniture" will lead off with a discussion and demonstration of two of our favorite tools, Biscuit Joiners and Compound Miter Saws, their use and application.

Mr. John Albachten of Rockler. will be speaking to us on the subject New Woodworking Products. He will be bringing some of Rockler's new items and demonstrating their use. If you have any specific questions you want to ask Mr. Albachten, please contact him via Email at john@albachten.com before the meeting and he will answer these questions at the meeting. We look forward to seeing you there.

Annual Seminar

The Annual Seminar will take place April 5, 2003. Glen Huey, a local craftsman who makes his living producing authentic reproductions of 18th and 19th century period furniture, will speak on casework. Glen plans to bring a piece of furniture that hasn't been assembled and step us through the construction of a piece of furniture from design to assembly. His work makes excellent use of dovetail drawers and mortise and tenon joinery. Mr. Huey and his father own and operate Malcolm L. Huey and Son, Ltd. of Middletown, Ohio. The cost for the seminar will be $20.00 per person.

Lumber For Sale

18" to 24" lengths, random widths, red oak, cherry, walnut and maple. Turtle Creek Flea Market, on weekends twice a month. Call (513) 588-4615 for information.

Appalachian Childrens Toy Project

Jim Schaefer is happy to report that the 2002 toy project was a gigantic success. 355 individual toys were made and donated by CWC members! To add to the generosity of our own club members, for the fourth year, Mary Jan Fansher of "Country Collectibles" in Waynesville, Ohio donated 424 beanie babies to CWC for CAP. This year, the Shopsmith User Group joined our efforts and donated 92 crafted wood toys to CWC for CAP. Lastly, we had 200 stuffed toys donated by other kind benefactors. This is a total of 1071 toys!

The toys were delivered to the Christian Appalachian Project on November 12, 2002. Many toys were given directly to needy children of Appalachia in their Christmas Baskets. Others will be placed in CAP schools and centers. Pictures of the toys will be on display at the upcoming meeting.

Thanks to the following participants in this special club project. Your efforts have helped contribute to a joyful Christmas for many needy children.

Membership Dues

Don't forget to renew your membership this year with the form below. Some members are already paid for this year. How about you? To find out, check the mailing label on the newsletter envelope. If you see (03) behind your name, you are paid up. If you see (02), you need to send in your dues. Your support of CWC is greatly appreciated.

E-Mail Addresses

We are requesting the E-Mail address of all members. The club wants to investigate the possibility of using E-Mail to send information and the newsletter to the members. Give the address's to Dick Fisher. See contact section.

Membership

CWC is open to all woodworkers of all skill levels, without regard to sex, race, religion, national origin, age or handicap. Annual dues are $15 and can be paid at the November meeting. New members are welcome and can join anytime during the year.

Guests

Guests and prospective members are always welcome at CWC meetings. If you know someone who would like to receive a newsletter, please call Dick Fisher or Joe Gaherty at the numbers listed in the contact section on the top right of this page.

Show And Tell / Questions And Answers

As always, we will have time for show and tell. If you have a newly completed project, a new tool or jig, bring it to the meeting to share it with the members.

There will also be time for an open question and answer session. If you have a woodworking problem or question, bring it up at the next meeting. Someone there will be sure to have a solution.

Club Contacts

Have questions about the club? We will be glad to help.

SHOP SPACE NEEDED

Past CWC secretary, Neil Harrell, writes to tell us that MARS Music, where until October 24th he operated his stringed instrument repair shop, The String Hospital, is in liquidation and going out of business. Neil said he and his two co-workers had to move their entire shop, including customers instruments to their home shops. Neil said his home is now bursting at the seams. They are interested in finding a small store front to relocate into and continue the business. With this in mind, Neil is asking members of the Cincinnati Woodworking Club, if they know of any available space that would be suitable for a small repair shop. He would like to stay on the North or West side of Cincinnati near I-275, I-75 or the Ronald Reagan Highway. Area's they have considered so far include Colerain, Woodlawn, Wyoming, Hartwell and Fairfield. If anyone knows of an affordable space please call Neil at (513) 385-7535 or email him at: stringhospital.com.

Neil continues to say, "I'm also considering finding a building with sufficient space to establish a cooperative or shared environment for woodworkers and luthiers. Over the years, I've had many people express interest in a woodworking co-op like the ones in New York City that are advertised in Fine Woodworking. If anyone in CWC is interested in working to establish a woodworking co-op in Cincinnati, please let me know.
